Efforts made in the field of Environment Education

The school has been giving due importance to the environmental education and protection by upholding the motto that “the existence of the environment is the basis for the survival of human life.” Every year the school organizes various seminars, workshops, field trips, interactive programmes and interviews with environment activist that give messages to the children to restore the balance of the dying environment. The Environment Education Club formed at Steinmont has been conducting various events every year to pass on the importance of environmental education to the new generation. Children are constantly aware of the importance of rainwater harvesting system by realizing that a time is coming when nations will be at war over water.
